

I AM THE WIND

TONI SCORSESE

I bitched about the wind, but I'm riding it high now.
It's a living entity that passed through me – carrying me to new places.
This flight is new to me.

I'm grateful for the wind, it moved the tides I still hear.
It's a living entity that spoke to me – articulating the best need.
This joy is new to me.

I lean into the wind, following its direction.
It's a living entity that guided me – establishing a better path.
This trust is new to me.

Oh. I thought it was about you; not entirely.
This gift came from me!
How lovely the souvenir I share with you.
